ATTORNEY GENERAL HAS WARM SUPPORT OF CHURCH PEOPLE

His Passed at Methodist Conference Endorsing Department's Work.
CONTINUANCE OF 1884 OBSERVANCE
Protest is Made Against Tendency of Sunday Work on Farms.

Warm approval of the action of the attorney general's department in enforcing the law in regard to the liquor traffic and Sunday observance were given at the Alberta Methodist conference which has just concluded its sessions in Calgary. There was not a single word of adverse criticism from the speakers and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted and forwarded to the Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney general:

"Whereas a petition has been recently presented to the attorney general asking that the embargo on the sale of Sunday of cream, confectionery and soft drinks should be removed, and whereas such sale is a violation of the Lord's Day act of Canada, and would be detrimental to the welfare of the people, resolved that this Alberta Annual Conference of the Methodist Church assembled in the city of Calgary, express its appreciation of the fidelity of the attorney general in so far as he has supported the enforcement of the law in the past, and urge upon him its full enforcement in the future."

"Whereas a very large part of this province consists of farming communities and whereas people are coming in large numbers into these districts who, in many cases, are strangers to our laws and customs, and whereas there is a tendency on the part of some of these people to violate the Lord's Day act by Sunday trading, harvesting and threshing, and whereas in the opinion of many of the largest farmers in the province such work is rarely necessary on the Sabbath, resolved that in all cases where such acts are reported to him, he warn the offender in the first case, and if such warning is not heeded he take action for prosecution under the Lord's Day act."

"And we further recommend that copies of both the above resolutions be sent to the attorney general."

COMMISSIONER NOW CHOSEN TO PROBE EXPRESS DISASTER

Comprises Prominent Marine Judges in Both Canada and Great Britain.
EXPERIENCED NAVAL MEN TO ASSIST THEM
Sir Wilfrid Laurier Well Pleased With Members Named by Government.

OTTAWA, June 5.—In the commonest of the morning, Hon. J. D. Hazen announced that the inquiry into the Empress of Canada disaster would open at Quebec on Tuesday, June 16. The minister further announced that the personnel of the Canadian naval service, which is also an admiralty court judge.

The four assessors who will assist the commissioners in arriving at a finding will be Commander Osborne, of the royal naval reserve; Prof. John Ross of Newcastle, England; Captain Denny, Dominion wreck commissioner, and Engineer Commander Howe, of the Canadian naval service. Commander Osborne and Prof. Ross are the nominees of the British board of inquiry, while the other two are nominees of the Canadian board.

Mr. Hazen gave the house, at noon, the records of the four assessors. He expressed the hope that the court, as the House of Commons would meet the approval of the house and the people as it had already met with the approval of the House of Commons.

"Now, hear," remarked Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

NEW POLICE CHIEF TO HAVE FREEDOM TO CLEAN UP CITY

Commissioner Booth Declares That Under George Hill Every Effort Will be Made To Drive From Edmonton All Immoral Women, the Men Who Live off Them, and Gamblers.

George Hill, of St. James, will be officially appointed chief of the Edmonton police late this afternoon, according to an announcement made by Commissioner Booth this morning. No replies have been received from cables sent to Carlisle and Edinburgh for reports on Mr. Hill's record there, and it is on this point that the appointment is being held up until this afternoon.

"We have sufficient records, recommendations and proof of Mr. Hill's qualifications to assure us that he is the man for the place, even without replies from these cities," Commissioner Booth declared. "If the answers are not forthcoming by evening the appointment will be made just the same."

Chief of Police Hill will be given a free hand in cleaning up the city. Commissioner Booth stated this morning that the new chief will be given the same instructions as were handed to Chief Lacey when he took office.

"It is of course impossible to do away entirely with prostitution," the commissioner asserted. "Any fair-minded person will admit that. But every effort will be made to drive the men and gamblers out of the city. No street soliciting will be tolerated, no disorderly houses will operate with the knowledge of the police and the practice of men living on funds supplied by these unfortunates will be absolutely abolished."

"The chief will be given strict orders to clean up and to keep the town that way, and we hope to have the same old practically a thing of the past in the city of Edmonton within a short time. The report that any kind of rooming establishment is operating for unlawful purposes will be followed by an investigation and if charges are true, arrests and prosecutions will follow. Gambling houses will not be tolerated. Of course, under the law, private gaming can not be abolished, but where the house is receiving a 'rakeoff' it can and will be stopped."

"Edmonton undoubtedly needs cleaning up, and Chief Hill is unquestionably the man to do the work."

Mayor McNamara was unable to issue a statement this morning, but said that his attitude toward the disaster was the same as it was when he was coming at an early date.

The new chief has served at St. James, Manitoba, the largest suburb of Winnipeg, with a population of 30,000, for the past 15 months, since his first arrival in Canada. While stationed there he has had charge of the entire district known as Assiniboia. In view of his splendid service in cleaning up the district and restoring a normal condition of law and order, he was given an increase in salary of $600 at the end of the year.

Ex-Chief McElae, of Winnipeg, in recommending the new chief to the mayor, said that he believed that the people of Edmonton might well consider themselves fortunate in securing the services of such an excellent officer. He was also highly recommended by the mayor of Assiniboia, the attorney general, the minister of justice, the minister of marine and fisheries, the eminent Winnipeg K.C. Philpotts, the eminent Winnipeg K.C. attorney general, in speaking of the new chief.

Chief Hill, stated that he was a capable chief of police in the Dominion today.

The mayor of Assiniboia stated that they much regretted losing such a valuable official, his work had been of the highest order there and above all Mr. Hill was at all times to be found a perfect gentleman, and a man of sterling qualities.

Chief Hill, who returned to Winnipeg on Wednesday evening, is expected to return here in about 10 days time to assume his new duties. In the meantime he will make arrangements to move his family here as well as at an early date.

In the city of Edinburgh Mr. Hill was responsible for the proper investigation of all criminal work for a period of seven years, occupying the position of lieutenant-in-chief. His record in this, one of the world's largest

WOMAN EXPLORER TELLS OF JOURNEY IN WILDS OF CONGO

New York, June 5.—Mrs. Marguerite Roby, who is a widow, is a young girl in the world whom one would take for an explorer of savage lands. She has tramped 8,000 miles through the African jungle, faced starvation and acted as arbitrator between two cannibal chieftains, whose respective tribes were on the brink of war.

Mrs. Roby went all alone to explore the least known parts of the Congo to find out if what she had read about the atrocities reported practiced there in connection with the rubber industry were true or not.

"Once a traveler always a traveler," seems true in my case, for when I was sent to Australia from England for my health, a trip that was continued across the world as I grew older, I extended my horizon and learned to know China, Japan, Austria, Persia, and other places, and with my African trip I had adventures never before experienced by a white woman.

The new Belgian King Albert has received Mrs. Roby and invited her to make studies and reports of that wonderful tract of land of which he is principal owner and report the needs of the black man and the white man. Several official letters attest the fact of this friendship. This commission and her trip, which was the political struggle which rent asunder the Congo, years ago, are undoubtedly with the Belgians, I traveled from one rubber post to another," said Mrs. Roby, "the coast often being absolutely unexplored and often through cannibal villages and it was necessary to get a fresh escort at every post as the natives spoke a different language. So often did I have to change my escort that I have learned the dialects that the traders have invented a sort of esperanto to help them in buying the rubber."

"Slaves is the biggest danger in a country like Africa," continued Mrs. Roby, "Quinine should be taken daily. I was too tired often after the day's tramp to do anything but crawl into bed and in consequence, had some terrible bouts of fever."

"The return trip took me nine months, and toward the end I made several detours because I heard that the natives had rebelled and were being cruelly massacred. I saw no slave personal evidence, but there was a certain amount of starvation—as there always will be in those tropical countries, where the rains fall and there are no crops."

"A paramount quality of the woman explorer is to be able to adapt herself to any and all conditions; to do without all the little luxuries, the little personal comforts that seem inherent in most women, for accomplishment in the exploration line demands a spirit of sacrifice."

Mrs. Roby does not feel that Colonel Roosevelt has blazed any new trails and is fearful of the statements regarding the new river, on account of the inevitable errors in maps and the fact of the white man's inability to follow a map of any kind there or in South America.

Mrs. Roby's contribution to literature is "My Adventures in the Congo."

Scott Now Asked, And He Will Give Reply Tomorrow

Mayor McNamara Makes Appeal to Him in the Interests of the Public When He Receives Word from the Head of the Bench That He Cannot Find Time for the Inquiry.

Although he has not received the formal request of the city council to conduct the police investigation, Chief Justice Harvey became informed through the press and mailed a letter to Mayor McNamara, which he received this morning telling him he was so busy he could not find time to conduct the investigation.

The mayor sent a special message to Justice Scott requesting that he take the investigation in charge. The letter was followed by a personal call from the mayor.

Justice Scott declared that he was unable to definitely reply to the request today, but that his answer would be forthcoming tomorrow.

Mayor McNamara's letter to Justice Scott follows:

"Hon. Justice Scott, Edmonton, "Dear Mr. Scott: "I beg to enclose herewith a letter just received from Chief Justice Harvey from Calgary, which explains itself. I am very anxious in the public interest that the investigation referred to should take place at as early a date as possible and it would appear that you are now the only judge we can count upon to hold the name."

"I am sending this letter by special messenger and shall go over to the court house and await for the adjournment of court so that I may obtain your answer before we go to lunch."

(Signed) W. J. McNamara, Mayor."

"Justice Scott was unable to give an immediate answer," stated Mayor McNamara, this afternoon. "He said, however, that he would take the matter under advisement and that he probably would be able to give a definite reply tomorrow."

"I am anxious that he should take the investigation in hand since should he be unable to do so, the matter would be considerably delayed, and in the interests of the people of Edmonton, I want the investigation to begin at once and be concluded at the earliest possible moment."

"We were sorry that Chief Justice Harvey could not undertake the work because of his high position in the province, but as he sets forth in his letter, he will be unable to do so. If Justice Scott takes charge of the work, the investigation will proceed at once."

IN PERIL OF BEING SWEEPED AWAY BY MADDENED RIVER

Wisconsin Towns Hourly in Danger of Being Carried Off by Stream.

FAMILIES DRIVEN FROM HOME BY ANGRY WATER
Seek Shelter in Higher Places—Floods Are Whirling Through Streets.

Greenwood, Wis., June 5.—With the Black River already past its greatest flood height and rising fast, this town and others situated near the raging torrent are hourly in danger of being swept away. The maddened waters, swollen by the heavy rain of Wednesday and Thursday have torn the municipal light and power company's dam from its anchorage and have swept away 250 feet of reinforced concrete levee.

Small buildings are being whirled down the streets and steel bridges are given away to the torrent and others are threatened. Families have been driven away from their homes by the waters and are seeking shelter in the higher places.

At Hendon, four miles north of here, the saw mill and roller mills of the T. O. Witte Lumber company have been torn down. The burning of a dam and a steel bridge has been witnessed from its mooring. Cretes have been carried into rivers and the water is still rising fast.

At Owen, 15 miles north of here, four feet of water is whirling through the streets, basements are filled, side walks carried away and small buildings demolished. The damage will reach many thousands of dollars.

Year For Starling "Mons Lieux." Florence, Italy, June 5.—The plea of "extenuating circumstances" was accepted today of Vincenzo Peruggia, who stole Davinci's "Mona Lisa" from the Louvre in Paris. The judge sentenced him today to one year and 15 days imprisonment.

As Peruggia has been in prison awaiting trial since December last, year he will serve only about six months.

THREE THOUSAND OF WESTINGHOUSE HELP ARE OUT ON STRIKE

Pittsburg, June 5.—Approximately 2,600 men and women employees of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company refused to go to work this morning when the whistles blew at the East Pittsburg factory at 7 o'clock. Their formation in line and marched to the playgrounds at Turtle Creek, a mile away, where the leaders said they would discuss their grievances.

Announcement of the strike was made late yesterday by representatives of Allegheny Consistent union, which declared the company had been steadily discharging men for no other reason than that they had joined the organization, which had been formed early in the year for the purpose of securing "better working conditions."

They also announced that the employees of the Westinghouse Machine company and the Pittsburgh Motor company corporations, whose plants are in that vicinity, would also be called upon to strike.

STRANDED HINDUS CONTINUING POLICY OF HUNGER STRIKE

Vancouver, June 5.—An official of the immigration department visited the Komatiks this morning and found that the Hindus' hunger strike was still actively in force. Japanese members of the crew confirmed the statement that none of the Hindus had tasted food yesterday or today.

ROTTEN TREATMENT FOR WORKINGMEN ON HUDSON BAY RAILWAY

Labor Used in Cruel, Brazen-Faced Manner—All Charged Medical Fees, Yet One Dies from Blasting Accident After Four Days Without Doctor in Sight—Laborers also Pay for Mail, which Often Never Reaches Them—Soaked for Carrying Baggage, Too, Whether They Have Any or Not—Sub-Contractors Double-Crossed Right and Left—Order Given that None Going South Can Have Even Meals Without Credit of $30 Coming.

(Western Associated Press.)
Ottawa, June 5.—The Evening Citizen says: "There seems to be a great deal of complaint about the way some of the contractors on the Hudson Bay railway from Le Pas to Fort Nelson have been treating men employed on construction work. Several men who have been working up there returned to the city yesterday with distressing tales of their experiences in the north. One of them is well known in local labor circles and in telling his story to a Citizen reporter, asked that his name be withheld for the present. He gave the names of others now in Ottawa, who can vouch for the truth of what he says."

"The men up there are so badly treated that I feel I should make public what I saw and was told in going over the line. On February 23, a man was blown up by a blast at camp 18. He was taken to the hospital but the doctor was away and there was no one to care for him except a veterinarian, who was called in. The man lived four days and died before the doctor arrived. He was buried without a word of prayer. The remains were placed in a rough box and put into the ground."

Charged for Every Mail
"The men are charged one dollar a month for doctor's fees, and if they only work one day, they have to pay the dollar. There was only one doctor at camp 18, and he was a mile or more from the line. He was charged 200 miles, or from Le Pas to Kettie Rapids, and sometimes there were no mail men on the line. There are no phones and the mail service in the winter was most unsatisfactory. The men have a certain amount taken out of their wages each month for the mail service, and yet all the service they got was mail sent by cache trains. The mail would remain in a cache a week or a month before being sent on. Sometimes it took months to reach the men at the end of construction and often it did not reach them at all. Men were hired in Winnipeg and they went up there to work without having clothes for such cold weather. They were to be paid $25 a month and that was a great deal of money. It was a frequent thing to see men frozen on going, from the line to the camp. I have seen men leave the end of steel to camp in 20 below zero weather with only one pair of shoes, ordinary clothes and a hat such as would be worn here in the fall. I saw a man living in a tent for over two weeks with both feet frozen and no doctor to look after him. There were other similar cases of men suffering."

"The men were charged 75 cents per day for taking their baggage in on the cache teams. Even if it was only a small bag of clothes, or no baggage at all, he was charged the same. The small sub-contractors were treated very badly. They were given to understand that they would have a contract per yardage for excavation 12 feet deep, which would mean four feet of frozen earth to take out and then eight feet of soft earth. When they got on the job they found it was only about six feet deep, so that they had four feet of frozen ground and only two feet of soft earth to take out. One man told me that he had worked four months, had lost no time and yet the charges against him amounted to more than his wages. They would be charged 15 cents for a bag of tobacco, 10 cents for a five-cent bag of salt, 15 cents a pound for sugar, 40 cents a pound for flour, $10 a bag for flour, 50 cents per pound for "blue nose" butter, and "two bits" a tin for corn, lard, etc."

Will Not Furnish Meals

"The Citizen's informant showed a typewritten copy of an order to a cache keeper telling him that 'A. Howie could not get his meals until he had a credit coming to him of $20 or more.' Then followed this extract from a general order: 'No man going south is to be supplied with anything, not even his meals, until he has a credit coming to him of at least $20. If this letter is disregarded, the cache keeper furnishing meals will be held responsible. There are men went in, thinking he was to get $30 a month and after he got to the work found he was only to get $20. He started home and could not get any meals. He started to walk back to the end of steel, but the cache along the line would not give him anything to eat, and he had to return to the one where he was working."

STATEMENTS MADE ABOUT THE MAYOR DECLARED INTUITION

Justice Scott's Comment on Journal Article in Election Campaign.

NO EVIDENCE OFFERED BY THE DEFENDANTS
Jury in Libel Suit Finds Verdict Which Causes Some Surprise.

An attack on Mayor McNamara as a candidate for the office of mayor, made under cover of an alleged report of an incident which occurred on Jasper avenue when the mayor's auto was pulled up for a breach of the Motor Vehicle act, was the subject of an action for damages for libel brought by Mayor McNamara against the Edmonton Journal before Justice Scott and a jury in the supreme court yesterday. The jury, composed of the following, found that no libel had been proved: William B. Willis, Stewart Hill, T. Galley, Robert Willis, Kenneth Sutherland and Robert McLean.

No Evidence Offered.
No evidence in support of the statements contained in the Journal story was offered, the defendants relying merely on the statement that the story had been published in the public interest, and that the comment made was fair criticism. C. C. McCall and J. R. Valens appeared for the plaintiff, and J. D. Hyndman and Mr. Miller for the defendants.

After the plaintiff's case had been submitted Mr. Hyndman asked for the case to be withdrawn from the jury on the grounds, first, that the article was not libelous, and secondly, that the plaintiff had no special privileges as candidate for mayor over any other citizen and could not plead his position in asking for damages.

Justice Scott took a different view in regard to whether the plaintiff had made out a case and declined to withdraw the case from the jury. His lordship also overruled several technical objections lodged by Mr. Hyndman regarding the service of the writ.

Referring to the article in question Justice Scott, in his address to the jury, said: "There was not the slightest evidence of an alteration between Mayor McNamara and a policeman, or that he abused a policeman, as the paper stated, and the plaintiff had explicitly denied that he ever had an argument with a policeman as alleged. Therefore, it seemed to him that the jury must conclude that the statements made in this part of the article were not true and therefore that the defendant was not justified in commenting upon them in the way he did. The verdict of the jury appeared to cause considerable surprise in court."

MISS SULLIVAN FAINTS; ADMITS $100-DAY BABY

Hired the Infant Only Once, the Young Woman Declares in a Grueling Cross-Examination—Suing for Breach of Promise, She Swears Millionaire Choked Her.

New York, June 5.—Mae A. Sullivan, the brown-eyed girl of twenty who is suing Arthur I. Hoe, son of the millionaire printing press manufacturer, for $225,000 damages in a breach of promise action, fainted during cross-examination before a jury and Justice Gavegan. Mr. Hoe's wife was present.

She confessed in tears she had once hired a baby for fifteen minutes to make another woman think it was her child, paying $100 for the use of the infant. She charged Hoe, the defendant, with "choking her and unconsciousness" in her apartment. She insisted he had told her he would divorce his wife and marry her, after she had learned that he could not keep his alleged promise of marriage without first applying to the divorce court.

Her former maid, Loda Hodges, testified that Miss Sullivan was "light-headed," and had on one occasion tossed over her pocketbook containing $4,000 and told her (the maid) to look after it. The maid counted the money "until she got too tired," and then gave up the task.

Robs and tears, punctuating the plaintiff's many replies, marked the course of her recital. When the ordeal had lasted for almost six hours Miss Sullivan begged Justice Gavegan to permit her to leave the stand and regain her composure. She was excused.

Miss Sullivan's fainting spell occurred when Attorney Hamilton suddenly produced a letter she had written to Miss Dorothy Brannigan just before she left Staten Island home and came to Manhattan. In this letter Miss Sullivan said she was "glad she was her own boss and was going to have a swell time."

The realization that Miss Brannigan, who occupied an apartment with her at the time Hoe began calling on her, and now resides in the same place, proved a blow to the plaintiff. It was nearly half an hour before she had regained her composure to resume her testimony.

Going Away With Baby.
Attorney Hamilton immediately produced two more letters, which Miss Sullivan admitted having written to a Mrs. Nellie Glasberg. One of these, dated December 10, 1912, was as follows:

"We expect to go south right after Christmas. I think the latter will do Bill, the baby and myself very much good. We certainly need a change from New York city. Cheer up, we both have gone through a good deal. You never know what the love of a mother is until you have a baby. I only wish I had a dozen like the heavy—dear little infant lamb. Bill joins me in sending his love to you."

"Who is Bill?" asked Attorney Hamilton. "William J. Daley, my cousin, husband and Mrs. Daley's father," replied the baby. She touched her face lightly with her handkerchief to wipe tears from her cheek.

"Did you ever call on Mrs. Glasberg, in the Bronx, with the baby, and a pressure of 270 pounds to the square inch behind it, the oil rushed into the tank at a terrific speed. Driller Hovis was asked if he could supply an approximate estimate of the daily barrel capacity of the well, and he replied that at the present stage it was impossible to do so. He would not say that the well would give forth oil at the rate of 2,000 gallons for 15 minutes at a stretch of 24 hours, but he remarked that it was possible and that he was convinced that the output of the well would far exceed 200 barrels per day."

Call It All a Joke.
"Oh, it was all a joke," said the witness nervously. "I had told Mrs. Glasberg that was married to Burr, the brother of Mrs. Daley. The fact is that I was never married to Mr. Burr and I have never been married to anyone and have never had a baby."

"Do you know any one named Moriarty?" the lawyer asked next. "Yes," she replied. "I know three Moriarty brothers."

"Have any cards engraved with the name 'Mrs. Edward Moriarty' on them?" "I can't remember," she answered.

Attorney Hamilton insisted that Miss Sullivan recall the date of the month she was married to the owner of the apartment, but the witness could only be made to say: "Those things never stayed in my mind. Yes, I thought about them, but can't tell the date now."

HOSE USED CATCH THIRD MEMBER OF EXSHAW SHOOTERS
Calgary Police Flood Afanany Sokoloff From Old Cellar of Shack.

ADMITS MYSELF AS ONE OF DESPERATE TRIO
Hole is Made in Floor and Bandit First Surrenders Gun.

(Special to the Capital.)
Calgary, June 5.—Hardest and hatless, clutching a fierce looking .25 caliber Luger gun in his hand, Afanany Sokoloff, believed to be the third and most desperate bandit of the trio, who shot and killed John Wilson, the paymaster of the Canadian Central company, at Exshaw, about two weeks ago, was finally captured by the Calgary police, after a frenzied chase through the streets of the city. He was taken to the police station of admitting that he is the third of the trio, which was imprisoned after the shooting at Exshaw and that he is the man the police have been searching for during the past week.

A hole was laid to the basement and the water was poured in. Higher and higher and higher crawled Sokoloff up the small banks of the cellar. As the water continued to rise the prisoner showed signs of surrender. Soon the desperate man tapped lightly on the floor of the shack on which the chief and his men were standing, to show that he was ready to give up. A hole was made about the center of the floor and the prisoner was ordered to get his gun through it. This he did and after it was taken his hands were shackled by the waiting officers. Then a large hole was made just enough to allow his body to pass through and gradually he was drawn up till he stood handcuffed on the roof of the den that had sheltered him.

OIL RUSHES FROM DINGMAN WELL AT A TERRIFIC SPEED

City Officials, Press Representatives and Others Witness Magnificent Sight.

GIVES 2,000 GALLONS IN EIGHTEEN MINUTES
Valve to Be Kept Closed Until Machinery Arrives From Pittsburgh.

Calgary, June 5.—Approximately 2,000 gallons of oil poured into the tank connected with the Dingman well in the course of 15 minutes yesterday forenoon. This important event happened while the well was being witnessed by Alderman Frost, Commissioner Graves, City Electrician Brown, H. A. Tremblay of Winnipeg, broker; A. J. Sures, president of the Calgary Petroleum Products company (the Dingman well), four representatives of the press and two photographers. The purpose of the visit to the well was that Alderman Frost would obtain five barrels of oil from the well, have it certified and sealed, and forwarded to Winnipeg, where it will be taken charge of by the police until the arrival of the alderman in that city on Monday.

No sooner had Driller Hovis opened the valve than there was a tremendous rush of wet gas through the two-inch pipe leading to the tank which it certified and sealed, and followed by a column of oil which traveled through the pipe at a pressure almost as great as that of water through the average city water hose. It was a wonderful sight, and Mr. Tremblay, who had been considerably amused by the stories as to the faking of the well after having seen what he had just seen.

Rush at Terrific Speed.
The 12,000-gallon tank is situated on a slight eminence about 80 yards from the mouth of the well, but with a pressure of 270 pounds to the square inch behind it, the oil rushed into the tank at a terrific speed.

A large amount of wet and other gas escaped with the oil and until machinery for the proper handling of these gases arrives from Pittsburgh, the valve will not be left open for any length of time. The gases are valuable and the directors of the company do not want to waste them.

May Be Regular Flowing Well.
Photographs were taken of the oil drum being filled and everything possible done to help Alderman Frost convince the citizens of Winnipeg that the stories as to the doctoring of the well are as absurd as they are untrue. It was also learned that the pressure at the well continued to increase and Driller Hovis stated that it was well within the bounds of probability that the well would not be found necessary to utilize any machinery at the well, but that it would develop into a regular flowing well. It was a flowing well yesterday for 15 minutes. Of that there is no shadow of doubt, and the whole proceedings came as a great surprise to the score of visitors who had the privilege of being present.

Japan Perturb Storm Swept.
Tokio, June 5.—A disastrous storm has swept over western and southern Japan. Several hundred boats have been wrecked and hundreds of people are believed to have been drowned. The steamer Magnolia rescued many seamen. A hundred houses in Nagasaki have been blown down.

NEW NATURALIZATION BILL UNDER CRITICISM.

If the acquisition of local citizenship is made more difficult in Canada than in other of the self-governing dominions, we are simply handicapping ourselves in the competition for population.

The act respecting British naturalization, and aliens, realises, albeit in a slightly different form, the ideal laid before the imperial conference of 1911 by Sir Wilfrid Laurier—a British subject anywhere, a British subject everywhere. The difference involved is that in the plan agreed to by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a certificate of Canadian naturalization could be issued to an alien who had resided three years in Canada, and upon the completion of other two years of residence anywhere within the empire, the naturalized person could obtain a certificate of imperial naturalization. The bill now before the house abrogates the existing naturalization law of Canada, and five years' residence becomes the necessary qualification for naturalization, but such naturalization instead of being restricted to Canada makes the naturalized alien a British subject everywhere.

Whether the abrogation of the three years' residence and the granting of Canadian naturalization is good policy is a very debatable point. As Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out in the house of commons, the five years' residence involves a change in the dominion lands act under which before a homesteader can get his patent he must become a British subject. Thus instead of three years it will be necessary in the future for an alien homesteader to put in five years on his homestead, an additional service which will bear heavily on the poorer homesteaders and will have some effect in retarding settlement on the land. It is a doubtful gain for Canada to impose restrictions upon the development of the land in order to gain the privilege of conferring in one action Canadian and imperial citizenship. The conference of 1911 accepted the proposals of Mr. Winston Churchill embracing an adoptive imperial act which would define British citizenship and a five years' residence qualification in any part of the empire for imperial naturalization, leaving the question of local naturalization entirely an affair of the government concerned. Thus Canada would grant local or Canadian citizenship on three years' residence, and the certificate thus obtained could be exchanged two years later for a certificate conferring full and complete British citizenship.

Uniformity in imperial naturalization is imperative; uniformity in local naturalization is neither necessary nor unqualifiedly desirable, and while it simplifies the procedure of naturalization, it at the same time creates conditions that are not altogether an unmixed blessing to the country.

SPECIAL INTERESTS COME FIRST

Another proof that the Borden government puts the desires of the special interests first was the recent speech of Hon. T. W. White for greater customs taxation upon stone. The note all through his defence of this tariff increase was that the men in the stone business wanted the tariff made higher. It was another commentary on the fact that when the Special Interests think specified tariff changes would be to their advantage Mr. White thinks so too, but when the farmers of the Dominion believe that free wheat and free agricultural implements would be to the advantage of the country as a whole and a benefit to the farming class Mr. White holds that they do not know their own business and listens instead to the opinions of the railways and the millers and the implement makers in opposition to the views of the farmers.

The Finance Minister proposes to protect the Canadian stone manufacturers, by means of a higher tariff, against possible outside competition. In other words, he proposes to ensure the big manufacturers of cut stone a virtual monopoly in Canada, thus enabling them to charge what prices they will in the knowledge that the Canadian consumer must pay or go without the stone. The action of the Finance Minister will necessarily increase the cost of public and private buildings in the Dominion and in this way add still more either directly or indirectly to the burdens upon the people.

When he defended his action in the Commons, Mr. White did so by citing the opinions of men interested in the stone business in Canada. They were convinced, he said in effect, that an increase in the stone duties would be a good thing. Against the opinion of a Liberal member that "it would be of advantage to the country, and especially to the artisans and consumers, that stone should be made as cheap as possible, and therefore should be on the free list," Mr. White made what apparently he regarded as a conclusive answer by saying that "the quarry owners of the country have a very different view."

The Adventures of Kathryn

By Harold MacGrath.

(Copyright, 1914, by Harold MacGrath.)

"Bala Khan," boomed a voice from the other side of the wall, "cares not for your friendship. Whatever the memmah says is my word. What? Does Alahwa want war for the sake of gratifying Durga Rama's spite? He gone, and thank your evil gods that I am not already at your lying, treacherous throat. Take yourself off, Durga Ram. The people of Bala Khan do not make war on women and old men. The memmah and her friends are under my protection."

"I will buy them!" shouted Umallah, recollecting the greed of Bala Khan.

"My word is not for sale!" came back Kathryn understood by the expression on Umallah's countenance what was taking place. She smiled down at her enemy.

"So be it, Bala Khan," snarled Umallah, his rage no longer on the rein. "In one month's time I shall return, and of your city there will not be one stone upon another when I leave!"

"One month!" Ramallah laughed. "Why are you always smiling, Ramallah?" asked Bruce.

"I have had a dream, mullah," answered Ramallah, still smiling. "Umallah will not return here."

"You could not be more than that," "I could, but will not," the smile giving way to sternness.

"If I only knew what had become of Ahmed," said the colonel, when he last of Umallah's soldiers disappeared where they had come, "I should feel content."

"We shall find, or he will find us, if he is alive," said Kathryn. "Now let us make ready for the last journey. One hundred miles to the west is the Arabian gulf. It is a caravan port, and there will be sailing vessels and steamships." She shook him by the shoulders joyously. "Dad, we are going home, home!"

"Kit, I want to see Winnie!" The word sent a twinge of pain through Bruce's heart. "Home? What he ever have a real one? Was she to go out of his life at last? Kathryn

"But you, Ramallah!" said Kathryn. "I shall return to Alahwa, I and Pundita," replied Ramallah.

"It will be death," objected Bruce and Kathryn together.

"Think not, and Ramallah permitted one of his mysterious smiles to stir his lips.

"Ramallah," whispered Pundita, fearfully.

"Yes. After all, why should we wait?"

"Even so!"

"What is all this about?" inquired Kathryn.

"Alahwa is weary of Umallah's iron rule, weary of a vacillating council. And the time has arrived when the two must be abolished. A thousand men await the turn of my hand. And who has a better right to the throne of Alahwa than Pundita, my wife?"

"Good!" cried Kathryn, her eyes sparkling. "Good! And if we can help you!"

"Kit!" interposed the colonel, "we can give Ramallah and Pundita only our good wishes. Our way lies to the west, to the seaport, and home."

Ramallah bowed.

And the party returned to the compound rather subdued. This quiet young native bungalow would go far.

"And if I am ever queen, will my beautiful Memmah come back some day and visit me?"

"That I promise, Pundita, though I have no love for Alahwa."

"We will go with you to the coast," said Ramallah, "and on our return to Alahwa, will see what has become of the faithful Ahmed."

"For that my thanks," responded the colonel. "Ahmed has been with me for many years, and has shared with me many hardships. If he lives, he will be a marked man, so far as Umallah is concerned. Aid him to come to me. The loss of my camp and baggage is nothing. The fact that we are all alive today is enough for me. But you, Bruce, will it hit you hard?"

Bruce laughed easily. "I am young. Besides, it was a passing fancy, though I must admit it was a business way."

"I am glad of that. There is nothing to regret in leaving this part of the world." Yet the colonel sighed.

And Kathryn heard that sigh, and intuitively understood. The flitting mask of grief, of such was the mind of men.

But the colonel was taken ill that night, and it was a week before he left his bed and another before he was considered strong enough to attempt the journey. Bala Khan proved to be a fine host, for he loved men of deeds, and this white-skinned man was one of the right kind. He must be strong ere he took the long journey over the hot sands to the sea.

A spy of Umallah's watched and waited to carry the news to his master, and his master's enemies departed from the haven of Bala Khan's walled city.

When the day came the Khan insisted that his guests should take with them camels and servants, and upon Ramallah's return the elephants would be turned over to him for the journey back to Alahwa. Thus, one bright morning, the caravan set forth for what was believed to be the last journey.

All day long they wound in and out, over and down the hills, and at last, pausing only once somewhere near 4 o'clock, when they dismounted for a space to enjoy a rest in the shade of a fish of tea. Then on again, through the night, making about 60 miles in all. At dawn they came upon a well, and here they decided to rest for a while. Beyond the well, some 25 miles, lay the low mountain range, over which they must pass to the sea. At the foot of these hills stood a small village, which they reached about 10 o'clock that night.

DRILLERS HOPE TO REACH STAGE AT OIL FIELDS

McDougal-Segur Outfit Progressing Rapidly at 2,400 Feet.

GOOD REPORT AT UNITED MONARCH DRILLING AGAIN

Indications Point to Strike at Any Moment—W. S. Heron Wealthy.

A sharp flurry in the oil market and a several briskness in the buying and selling of all oil stocks may be looked for locally before many days are past, by reason of a number of very important happenings on the Calgary market and the announcement that a heavy flow of oil from the Diagonal well took place late Wednesday afternoon. Other wells also, such as United, Monarch, McDougal-Segur and Mowbray-Berkeley, during the last few days have shown increased gas pressure and the strongest indications of unlimited oil in the depths beneath.

A great move has been on foot the last two days to secure Monarch holdings, owing to their announcement that the management was about to announce a stock dividend to share holders of record of June 15th. Each shareholder received on the company's books on that day will be entitled to subscribe for one share in the capital stock of the company for each share that he now holds. As a result of this announcement the price of Monarch quickly jumped from $15 to $25 per share, and all loose stock was quickly picked up at that figure. The Monarch company control some 600 acres of oil land, and are also drilling at their Olds well and are down 667 feet. A strong flow of wet gas is reported from this well at last reports, and owing to the conservative organization and location, the stock of the company is held many times above par.

United is optimistic. Cheering news comes from the United Olds limited, through Stuart J. Director O. G. Dewdney, who states that last Saturday the drillers had reached a depth of 1,000 feet, and the indications were increasing favorably, judged from the fact that the gas issue from the well bears a heavier odor of petroleum than ever before, but Mr. Dewdney states that at least 667 feet more would have to be drilled before the well could expect to reach the oil-bearing sands. United shares continue to become scarcer as the day's work progresses, and are now entirely convinced they will be unable at the present time to dispose of their holdings. The prospects for oil at United well are exceptionally bright and if a strike is made—and this is likely to occur in the very near future—there will be another tremendous sale of oil stock in this city and elsewhere.

The McDougal-Segur well is now at a depth of over 2400 feet. The McDougal-Segur well is down to 1709 feet and still shows no sign of oil. The well at Black Diamond No. 1 continues to produce oil seepage, a crude black petroleum, at a depth of 1579 feet. These are the latest reports from the wells where operations have proceeded the furthest. All eyes are on the drillers. Managing Director G. E. Buck of the Black Diamond company, states that the drillers working every day at that hole but that progress is slow owing to hard formations encountered at that depth, and that only a foot and a half or two feet can be drilled each day. This well will be carried to a depth of 2900 feet.

Craig Says No Oil Yet. Cumulative drilling is directing operations at the Mowbray-Berkeley well, but denies reports that oil has been met with by the drillers. A good deal of speculation is being made in Calgary as to which well will be the next to bring in the oil, and the McDougal-Segur well is the favorite so far. Clyde Segur, the man in charge of the drilling operations, says he is willing to bet $100 to 1 that the McDougal-Segur well will bring in the oil. The well is now about 1,000 feet deeper than any other well in the field, and the drillers started yesterday to "make hole"—that is, drill at the highest possible speed with two shifts, night and day, and a strike may be made at any moment.

Heron is Wealthy. If the Calgary oil boom proves up in values and production, as many think it will, W. S. Heron, pioneer of the oil district, will be a very wealthy man. An expert on acreage values estimates his wealth at $50,000,000, based on the acreage prices of leaseholds as they are selling on the open market. Mr. Heron retains 165 acres in the famous section 1, on which he has put a well, and he owns, or a total of $325,000. In addition to these holdings he owns and controls 15,000 acres on the same anticline, valued at $2,000 per acre, or $30,000,000. He also holds 15,000 acres on the same anticline, but not so close to the developed district, which is worth approximately $2,000,000.

One of the latest deals in connection with the sale of oil lands is presently hanging in the balance. This involved $160,000, and a syndicate of New York capitalists are expected to put this amount up, for a Diamond well. The deal now on the table whether or not the syndicate of New York capitalists are expected to put this amount up, for a Diamond well. The deal now on the table whether or not the syndicate of New York capitalists are expected to put this amount up, for a Diamond well.

A question that is causing much talk in the southern city is, "Can the province collect increment tax upon oil lands? The increment of mining leases and it ought to be taken out of politics and

FOX FARMING

A Sound Investment—Not a Speculation

In all the thousands of people who have invested millions of dollars in the Fox Farming business in the Dominion of Canada, there is not one case on record where the investor either as a shareholder in a company or a private rancher, has lost one dollar.

This is the only industry in the world that can lay claim to that distinction.

That Fox Farming is destined to become one of the greatest if not the greatest industry in Alberta is an accepted fact by those who have given the matter any thought.

The Government of the Province realize that and are from time to time enacting laws and regulations for the encouragement and development of this wonderful industry.

The wonderful profits made from investments in this Fox Farming in Eastern Canada, more particularly P. E. Island, are already well known to many people in Western Canada; for the benefit of those who do not know the following facts may be interesting.

The average cash dividend paid on all the ranches on P. E. Island last year was 97 per cent. This is quoted from a statement by the Fox Department of the P. E. Island Government.

Your opportunity to get in on the ground floor in this wonderful industry is offered to you by

The P. E. Island Silver-Black Fox Co. of Alberta, Ltd.

They are at present constructing the most modern ranch in Western Canada. The ranch is being built about six miles from the Post Office. The Company have secured up to the present time about 35 good foxes and bought at prices which will never be duplicated in this country again.

You are offered the privilege of participating in this splendid transaction.

The Directors of the Company are all solid sound business men, and not one of these directors or any other member of the Company has bought one share of the capital stock of this company any cheaper than you can buy it today.

The shares are now and always have been, $20.00 each, par value. Cash with application.

Call in and Investigate This Proposition.

ANGELICAN CHURCH TAKES ACTION ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Want the Issue Lifted Above the Mire of Party Politics in Manitoba.

ARCHBISHOP URGES STIGMA BE REMOVED

Should Not Be Said That the Church is Linked to Drink Interests.

Winnipeg, June 5.—About seven hours of animated discussion of the temperance question and the attitude of the Church of England toward the Anglican synod of Rupert's Land last night decided to appoint a strong and representative committee to formulate a program of constructive work to guide clergymen and laymen of the diocese in their temperance work.

The discussion revealed a remarkable divergence of opinion. Archbishop Matheson was strongly of the opinion that the synod wanted a policy on the subject and said: "I want to have a policy that Anglicans can adopt and stand shoulder to shoulder with their brethren. The trouble is at present that this question is mixed up with the increment of mining leases and it ought to be taken out of politics and put in the hands of a commission of highly paid men, lifted above the mire of politics. We Anglicans want a policy on the question so that it shall be said no longer that we are cold on the question, or that we are allied with the liquor interests. We must have a policy and not stand under the stigma that the Church of England is doing nothing, or that it is linked arm with the liquor interests."

Canon Murray declared the synod had a policy in the Gothenburg system, which was adopted four years ago, and urged that the synod bend its energies to educating the people in that policy.

Canon Matheson was very anxious to keep the question out of politics, saying: "Let us avoid the entanglements of the Church of England in the meshes of political controversy."

Three laymen expressed themselves as in favor of a "banish the bar" policy, and then some clergy protested against the presence of the press, as party capital might be made out of the discussion. After heated speeches it was decided to allow the press to remain.

W. R. Milne, K.C., brought in a motion favoring prohibition, but this was lost. A special session of the synod was held in the evening and it was nearly midnight before the debate was finished and the decision reached. The synod also dealt with the question of giving women the right to vote at parish meetings, and as the vote split exactly even, the archbishop had to give the casting vote, which he did in favor of the motion. The synod also placed on record its approval of a carefully considered plan for giving religious instruction in the day schools of the country and authorized the appointment of a committee to prepare a memorial on the matter for presentation at the forthcoming general synod in Vancouver in September.

There was no conference again yesterday between the mediators or other delegates.

Theatres and Picture Shows

REVOLVING LADDER
ACTOR ALMOST LOSES NERVE IN AEROPLANE

Speaking of the feeling of being in the air, Arthur Delmore, who appears as the added attraction at the Pantages next week with Fred Lee, says there is a whole lot of difference as to how one is up there.

Mr. Delmore, who is a great friend of the Wright brothers, spent some time recently visiting at Dayton, Ohio, where the Wright brothers have a large number of their flying machines. Of course, Mr. Delmore, who daily takes lots of chances up in the air in his revolving ladder act, was very nervous to have a flyer though he was warned by his host that the feeling would be very different. However, the vaudevillean persisted, and took a short flier.

And although he is daily in his revolving ladder act which he offers at Pantages next week, in far more actual danger than in the seat of a carefully propelled aeroplane, Mr. Delmore has lost his nerve and came quickly back to earth.

Another interesting member of next week's cast whom the lure of vaudeville has tempted is Fred Woodward, the animal imitator. Woodward is known to the American public as the greatest of all in his special line and won laurels as "Frank the Mule" in the recent production of "The Tick Tock Man of Oz." His present offering is entitled "The Old Hand," and is a replica of the former success in tabloid form. His supporting company were associated with him in the big production, and will assist in securing a word of laughter and delight in their latest creation.

WILD ANIMAL FILM
EMPRESS THEATER

The movie lovers of the city will be pleased to hear that for today and tomorrow the Empress photo-play theater will present a distinguished animal moving picture, "Beasts of the Jungle." It is another film of the same high-class in this subject, as those previously exhibited at this theater and have met with such successful production.

The animal movies seem to meet more with the popular fancy than any other single line of pictures. They contain every strong element of other subjects and have an additional and that is the novelty and interest that the beasts of the forests hold.

The feature film offering for today and Saturday at the Empress is said to combine the impressive qualities of an animal film and those of sustaining dramatic interest. It will be exhibited for these two days only.

The ventilating system at the Empress has been entirely overhauled so that the air in the auditorium is changed every five minutes. Electric fans have been installed to keep this fresh air in continuous circulation and therefore the maximum amount of comfort during the warm weather is assured to the patrons of Edmonton's prettiest picture theater.

"THE SQUIRE'S SON"
IS THE FEATURE AT THE BIJOU THEATER

"The Squire's Son" is the feature on the program at the Bijou for today and tomorrow. It is a two-reel production and touches upon a sweet and heart-touching story of romance.

Following her own desire to her father's will, Kathleen, the daughter of an Irish peasant, consents to marry Michael McGrath, the son of a wealthy squire who has just come into his father's fortune, although her heart tells her she will never be happy except with Barney, her poor sweetheart.

Barney accepts Kathleen's decision, but demands a final interview with her. Kathleen goes to tell her father, but her father is discovered and young McGrath and her father start out to search for her.

When she is found in Barney's arms young McGrath picks a quarrel with the Canadian Girl Presented.

London, June 5.—Miss Dorothy, daughter of Hon. H. J. Doberty, Canadian Minister of Justice, was presented at last night's court.

WOMAN EMPLORES KING GEORGE TO "CEASE TORTURE"

Suffragette Gains Admission to Buckingham Palace and Pleads Her Cause.

ATTENDANTS HUSTLE GUESTS FROM COURT

English Judges May Bring Action Against Contributors Toward Movement.

London, June 5.—The King and Queen held court at Buckingham palace yesterday, and in spite of precautions a militant suffragette gained access to their presence and caused an interruption to the presentations.

As she was passing the King the suffragette dropped on her knees and shouted:

"Your majesty, for God's sake do not use force."

The woman was attired in court dress and her action caused profound astonishment. She continued to admonish the King, but her words were inaudible, as the conductor of the band in the gallery, quick to observe the incident, signalled to the band to play louder, and the woman's voice was drowned.

Intruder Arrested.
She was immediately removed from the room and handed over to the police.

The woman is not known, and close inquiries are being made as to how she obtained a card of admission.

The scene, which gave a shock to those in the immediate vicinity of the royal circle, was very brief, and the assemblage generally had scarcely any knowledge of what was transpiring.

Whether the woman was one of the invited guests who sympathized with the suffragette movement, or an intruder who gained admission to the court by force, is still unknown. It is difficult, however, to imagine how any person could have gained access to the court on a forced invitation as the palace had knowledge of a conspiracy to approach the royal presence and every guard and every carriage arriving at Buckingham palace had been subjected to a close inspection by a host of detectives.

Not one person had been allowed considerable delay and not a little indignation or irritation in court circles.

Last night's incident is calculated to produce a feeling of still greater exasperation in the public mind, and renewed demands for strong measures to suppress the suffragette agitation.

Women Threaten Assault.
Striking scenes were witnessed at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union last night. Mrs. Mansell presided and threatened the editors with the fate of the two who visited them at their offices.

Mrs. Mansell refused to report that subscribers to the fund would be prosecuted and said she wondered whether the government would dare to prosecute the liberal women who had subscribed.

The audience worked itself into a state of hysterical excitement, loudly cheering all references to violence and greeting the mention of the government and police with cries of "hail male," "serve the brutes right," "let the editors beware."

Next week the Women's Social and Political Union will observe as self denial week. The names of donors of money and jewelry will not be disclosed, as a precaution against any attempt on the part of the government to seize the offerings or prosecute the donors.

Newspaper Versions.
Late editions of the London morning papers publish different versions of the court incident. The Daily Mail says:

"Just before 11 o'clock the court was started by a well-dressed woman saying, 'your majesty, for God's sake

'Immediately two gentlemen of the court stepped forward, and it was seen that a handsome young woman, attired in black, was on her knees with hands outstretched towards the King. The attendants raised her and without demur on her part escorted her out. Neither the King nor any member and is given a sound trouncing. McGrath determines to revenge himself and plans to waylay Barney when the latter comes home that night.

In the darkness he mistakes the brother of Peter McGrath, the village priest, for Barney, and kills him. He then runs to the priest's home to escape the vengeance of the mob which gathers upon the discovery. McGrath's body.

Barney comes in advance of the mob to tell Father McBride of his brother's death. McGrath sees Barney approaching and unable to believe the evidence of his eyes thinks it is a ghost. He hides himself in a closet and Barney takes advantage of his flight to lock him in. Although horrified at his brother's murder, Father McBride spares McGrath. Soon after the mob bursts into the house and drags the squire's son away.

her of the royal circle paid the slightest attention to the incident.

Titled Disturbers?
According to the Daily Chronicle, the demonstration was made by two titled ladies, sympathizers with the suffragette movement, both of whom had previously presented at court and were entitled to cards for all court functions. When in the royal presence they raised their voices in a demand that votes be given women. They were escorted to an anteroom and there were then conducted beyond the police precincts.

According to the Times the woman apparently was provided with a probable cause and cried in a shrill voice, which was audible throughout the throne room, "Your majesty won't listen to the desperate women!" Sir Douglas Dawson, controller of the chambers, department, assisted in carrying her out. Five witnesses describe the hearing of their majesties and the continuance of the ceremony as a master piece of dignity and composure.

The woman was young and rather comely, dressed in black. She had strongly attracted attention by her nervousness in conversation with her neighbors.

The Times understands that the crown lawyers are of the opinion that subscribers to the suffragette fund, some within the reach of the law and that their property can be attached for damage done.

Tactics Have Changed.
The Times, referring to the proposed plan of the authorities to combat the campaign of the militant suffragettes by prosecuting contributors to the funds of the militant organization and attaching their property, points out that the character of the movement has changed considerably since its early days. Then, volunteers came forward in large numbers to do the work. Now, it is done very largely by women who are paid, and well paid to do it.

Cases are frequently heard where women have given up other employment to devote their time, not from any love of the cause, but merely because the pay is so much better.

It is believed, said the Times, that local action against subscribers, who provide funds for this remunerative employment, will have a very considerable effect, but if not, steps may be taken to secure legislation which will enable the home secretary to declare certain societies having no corporate existence, to be illegal and to attach their funds.

New Jersey is said to have the greatest proportion of railroad mileage of any state in the country, one mile of railroad to every three square miles of territory. This makes an unusual risk of forest fires by railroads.

ANCIENT AND HISTORIC CHURCH DESTROYED AND SUFFRAGETTES BLAMED

Derby, England, June 5.—The ancient and historic church at Broadstall dating back to Norman times and containing many priceless relics was destroyed by fire during the night. Suffragettes are suspected by the authorities as explosions similar to those caused by the bombs usually employed by the arson squad were heard before the fire. A short time ago a suffragette meeting in the village of Broadstall was broken up by boys and it is generally supposed that the women burned the church in revenge.

Among things consumed by the flames was an ancient chained bible. The church register, dating back to 1573 was saved.

FOX INDUSTRY IS PROFITABLE ONE FOR P. E. ISLAND

Province Steadily Loses Ground But Comes to Front By Selling Pelts.

ALBERTA HAS GREAT NATURAL ADVANTAGES

Shows Signs of Becoming Premier Center of This Business on Globe.

Prince Edward Island, the little island province of confederation, which has steadily during the last three or four decades lost ground in population and in comparative importance as one of the family of provinces, has, however, during the past couple of years, found larger than probably ever before in the eyes of the rest of the dominion, and even of the world.

Foxes did it—foxes that run wild by the hundreds in the northern parts of Alberta, but are becoming less and less numerous. Now, whenever one thinks of Prince Edward Island, one thinks of foxes—and money, for money means foxes and foxes mean money. It is said that Prince Edward Island at present has 45 per cent. of all

TWO FRENCH AVIATORS ARE BLOWN TO DEATH FLYING IN AEROPLANE

Dijon, France, June 5.—Two French army aviators, Lieutenant Gironne and Sapper Rioux, were killed while flying near here today.

Passants watching an aeroplane which had risen from the military aviation station and which was flying swiftly at an altitude of half a mile over the forest of Caquette, heard an explosion and saw a burst of flame. A few moments later the fragments of the aeroplane to which the aviators were strapped fell among the trees and the bodies of the men were found horribly burned and mutilated.

The world's foxes in captivity. It is also estimated that for every black fox that can be raised, there are 25 wealthy people waiting for its pelt in London, Paris, New York, Chicago, Berlin and other great cities.

Alberta, because of its size, location and natural advantages from a fox raising standpoint, give promise of supplanting Prince Edward Island as the premier country in the world for that industry. It is as yet only in its infancy here, but is already fast becoming a lucrative field for investment.

Some of the fox companies in Prince Edward Island and elsewhere have paid dividends which would make even a successful oil concern all up and take particular notice. Many shrewd business men with wide interests are becoming heavily interested in fox companies.

The provincial government is alive to these facts and is already enacting laws and regulations governing the exportation of live foxes from the province and other matters which vitally concern the industry. It is not improbable that very large profits will be made by those who invest in this industry in Alberta, as in other parts of the Dominion where it is carried on in the Edmonton district a fox exchange has been organized.

A new moving picture theater, which has been started in Leduc, England, has been financed and controlled by local trade unionists.

MANY INDUSTRIES IN OPERATION ON EDMONTON SITES

Commissioner Harrison Compiles Statistics Showing 125 Manufacturing Here.

INCLUDE LINES FROM BREAD TO BRASSWORK

Map Showing Location of Concerns to Form Portion of Exhibit at Calgary.

There are 125 manufacturing industries, embracing 44 lines, according to a compilation just completed by Commissioner Harrison. On a huge map hanging on the wall of the commissioner's office appear the various industries and the location of each. This map, together with several sets of civic plans and statistics relative to Edmonton and city planning, will be sent to the Alberta Town Planning and Housing conference in Calgary June 16-18.

The list of industries as compiled by Commissioner Harrison is as follows: Aerated water, etc.; 3; boxes, etc.; 2; brass foundry; 1; bread and cakes; 6; brewers and malsters; 2; butchers; 6; cigars; 4; clothing; 2; concrete blocks, etc.; 2; confectionery; 2; creamery; 2; excelsior; 1; foundry and machine shops; 6; gravel; 1; harness and saddlery; 2; ice; 2; jewelers; 6; mattresses; 1; millers; 4; glass; 1; painting; 1; plaster; 4; photo engravers; 2; plaster ornaments; 1; printers and publishers; 15; rubber stamps; 1; saunas, doors, etc.; 10; shoes; 1; saw mills; 3; sheet metal works; etc.; 4; stone works; 2; street paving; 1; tanneries; 2; vinegars; 2; plumbing; 1; boats, motor, etc.; 4; furriers; 1; maps; 2; lenses and eyeglasses; 1; auto works; 2; cabinet makers; 1; and other concerns, 12 in all. In paper boxes; 1; fence and wire works; 1.

Commissioner Harrison has written the managers of the various concerns asking information concerning the number of employees and the exact amount of the weekly payrolls.

"Such statistics are of interest to the Edmonton resident," the commissioner stated. "In addition to this they are of value for advertising the city and in interesting other concerns locating here."

"The map showing the location of the various industries is very handy for the same reason. Should a manufacturer be seeking a location, from the map he can learn at a glance exactly where the city's industries are located, and he can determine from this just what would be the best location for his own establishment."

"Edmonton is growing rapidly and the increase in manufacturing industries is a source of gratification to those interested in the city's growth. The various development committees that have been active in the city's behalf are largely responsible for this satisfactory state of affairs, and those men are to be heartily commended."

IMMIGRATION MEN AT INTERNATIONAL LINE ARE VERY EFFICIENT

"The immigration officials of the Canadian government must believe that all who come into the country are of the kind which you in Edmonton are just now trying to drive out," said an American lady who had just come here from Portland, Oregon, at the King Edward hotel, this morning.

"They made me and all the other ladies who came on the same train tell our whole histories and practically the history of all our families," she continued. "We had to just about relate everything that ever happened to us in detail. I never saw anything like it in my life."

Others who have recently come over from the United States also say that the border immigration seems to be much stricter than usual, for some reason or other.

City employees have formed a club for social purposes and for the furthering of their work in behalf of the municipality. At the initial meeting of the organization these officers were elected: Mayor McNamara, honorary president; Commissioners Clement and Harrison, Alderman Driscoll and City Engineer Latour, honorary vice-presidents; A. A. Campbell, president; Robert English, vice-president; W. H. Todd, secretary; A. R. Malman, treasurer; John McPherson, G. P. Evans, J. Patterson, J. E. Fraser, and W. J. Cardy, members executive committee.

A constitution and bylaws will be drawn up by the executive committee, and will be presented at the next meeting of the club, to be held in two weeks.

French Congress Next Week

The French-Canadians of Alberta will gather in Edmonton, next Monday, for a three days' convention of the "Société des Parler Français."

This is the third annual gathering of its kind to be held here and the attendance will surely be large and representative of every section of the province. Many visitors are expected from Eastern Canada as well as a large number from Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The convention is to be presided over by the Hon. Wilfrid Garney and the Hon. P. E. Lessard, M.P.P. Mr. Lucien Dubeau, M.P.P., Messrs. Lucien Dubois and C. H. Belanger and, in fact, all the French-Canadians of Edmonton are helping to make this a still more successful gathering than former ones.

MORE FISH AND MORE FARMING TO REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Vancouver, June 5.—More fish on the table and more milked farming on the farms are two of the great remedies of the high cost of living which Chairman McDougall, of the national commission thinks will weigh most for the public good. The members of the committee reached here yesterday and went to Victoria, where they will hold a session today. They will hear evidence in Vancouver, Winnipeg and other cities on their way east.

MAN BORN AT FORT NOW FORGOTTEN, WAS IN EDMONTON 1865

"Yes, I was right here away back in '65, when there was nothing to mark the spot except a little Hudson's Bay post," stated William Pruden, at the Cecil hotel yesterday. "I was then only about 12 years old and never expected to see a city like this grow up here."

Mr. Pruden is a farmer about 20 miles northeast of Coronation, and is staying in the city for a few days. Not only he, but his father before him, was born in the west—at a place called Fort Carlton, which was about 50 miles west of Prince Albert on the Saskatchewan river, and was burned down during the rebellion of 1855.

"Some people seem to think," he said, "that the north country has only recently been discovered, but even when I first saw Edmonton there were men living north of it, though ever so few. My father was born in this country, at Fort Carlton, and he was Hudson's Bay factor there for 30 years."

Mr. Pruden stated that the crops in the Coronation district were looking good, and that yesterday's rain would help them considerably. There is a larger crop area there than ever before and the farmers are beginning to feel the effects of the railway building which has gone on during the past few years.

Mr. Pruden has lived in all three of the prairie provinces, but likes Alberta best, as he has been in the Coronation district for the past three years.

"EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE" VERDICT AT INQUEST IN MONTREAL ACCIDENT

Montreal, June 5.—"Excusable homicide" was the verdict at the inquest today on the death of Mrs. E. Robillard, and her 18-year-old daughter, who were killed Wednesday evening by a street car leaving the tracks on Avenue and plunging into Mr. Robillard's automobile. The evidence was to the effect that the car was being taken to the repair shop and the brakes had suddenly gone out of order while the car was going down grade. Mr. Emile Robillard and his son, Eugene, who were badly injured in the accident, are not yet regarded as out of danger.

DETECTIVES FIND SUSPECTED CLUE AMONG MURDERERS

Two Men Answered Descriptions But Turned Out to Be Other Persons.

THOUGHT MEN HAVE GOT OUT OF THE LOCALITY

Murderer Was Left Handed; More Detailed Description is Given.

No important discovery has yet rewarded the efforts of the searchers for the three men responsible for the shooting down of Justice of the Peace Chivers at Amisk. Almost a week has now elapsed since the tragedy and the gang is still at large. It is now regarded as extremely probable that the men have succeeded in getting clear of the district. After the shooting, the men would know that the whole district would be alive with pursuers and that their only chance of escape would be in traveling as far as possible before the search parties had time to be organized.

Suspect Clue Futile.
J. P. Nicholson, chief of the provincial detective force, returned to the city this morning after being out two days working on a suspected clue which, however, proved futile. Together with Sergeant McFarlane of the R.N.M.P., Chief Detective Nicholson went north in an auto from Carleton Place on Tuesday morning and searched the whole of the Westinghouse Lake district and also the district east of Consett on the Stettin branch. Here they got trace of two men who answered to the description of two of the wanted men. Taking a gasoline pump they traveled 70 miles to the end of the street, where they thoroughly interrogated the men in the camp and although the two men they had been following were found and answered the description of the wanted men, they proved to be other than the culprits.

The whole district as far as Keweenaw, Sask., was covered, but no trace of the real fugitives was obtained. Sergeant McFarlane will work his way back again over the whole of the scene of the murder in the hope of picking up some possible clue. Mr. Nicholson is confident that the men have got away from the immediate vicinity of the crime. The men had a whole night's start and they could have the chance of boarding three trains on the C.P.R. or having traveled north and reached the Grand Trunk before the news of the murder was thoroughly abroad.

More Detailed Description.
The descriptions of the men circulated have been so vague and general that they might answer to many men. The most detailed description yet obtained was given to Detective Nicholson, regarding the man who was the first to be seen before the murder. It is as follows:
Height, 5 ft. 7 ins. to 5 ft. 8 ins.; age,

KINGSTON WINS OVER THREE OTHER CITIES FOR 1915 ASSEMBLY

Woodstock, Ont., June 5.—After receiving invitations from four cities of Canada for the meeting in 1915, the general assembly today accepted an invitation to hold the gathering of that year there. The important question of which has not yet come up and probably will not be considered until next week. A meeting of those opposed to union was held in the library building this morning. Rev. R. G. Maclellan, of Paris, Ontario, presided, and Dr. Scott, editor of the Record, explained the situation. It was decided to make a vigorous fight in the assembly where the views of those opposed to union will be set forth as clearly as possible. It appears certain that there will be an irreconcilable element when the union is finally effected.

25 to 30; build, medium stout; hard looking face; brown eyes, black hair, dark complexion; clean shaven, with two or three days' growth of beard; clothing, dark brown with a little grey in it; was left in trousers; dark green shirt, almost black; soft dark felt hat. The man is left handed.

There are at least three who could readily identify the men once they seen them again. They are Frank Lawley, a local hardware merchant at Amisk, the railway station, the district, and the agent of the railway company.

If it should be the case that they have secluded themselves in the underground in any part of the district it will only be only a matter of time until they are driven out by starvation. The whole countryside is being scourged by riders who are assisting the R.N.M.P.

PROPERTY OWNERS NOW ALLOWED TO LEVEL SIDEWALKS

Edmonton residents who desire to lower sidewalks to grade levels, even though not on the regular program for sidewalk work may so upon application to the commissioners, provided the cost of the work is guaranteed by the owners of abutting property, and a petition is forthcoming. The commissioners this morning, in a resolution to this effect at the meeting of the commissioners this morning, will enable property owners to place sidewalks on proper levels and make other such improvements as are necessary.

The secretary was instructed to notify all department superintendents that the city engineer's bureau will be in operation Monday and that all workmen employed must be taken from his list.

Contracts for sewer extensions have been awarded as follows: Contract No. 1, Inglewood and Westmount, city, contract No. 4, North Edmonton, C. L. DeVal; contract No. 5, Highlands and Virginia Park, Edmonton Construction company; contract No. 11, New Glenora, J. Rayburn, Benson and Miller; contract No. 12, the lowest bidder for contract No. 11, Vogel estate, south side, but the contract has been held up awaiting the obtaining of title. The commission order of revision for the 1914 assessment roll will be filed in the council chamber at 1 o'clock, June 12.

LANDLORD HAS NOT RIGHT TO TRESPASS LEASED PROPERTY

Assault Case of R. S. Williamson Against Tenant Dismissed in Court.

MAGISTRATE RULES
FAVOR DEFENDANT

Trouble Arose Over Arrears in Payment—Lease Was Still Unexpired.

R. Brown of this city appeared before Magistrate Massie this morning charged with having assaulted his landlord, R. S. Williamson. After hearing all the evidence in the case his worship ruled that the first view taken was justifiable since no bodily injury had been committed.

The trouble it appears arose over a controversy regarding rent paid due. The magistrate's decision was an important one in view of the fact that it substantiated the contention that a landlord cannot willfully trespass on a property which he has already leased, and which lease still continues to run.

The defendant had previously paid the sum of $25 on Saturday last, on account of rent and was given a receipt for the same, reading in full up to April 14.

Williamson then afterwards entered the house by means of a key which he himself held and placed a "TV Rent" sign in the window, unaware to Brown. When the latter noticed it he threw it in the street. When the landlord came around again on Monday he found it outside and went in to see Brown. The latter ordered him off the premises. Refusing to go he was handled with force.

It was brought out that Williamson had given instructions to the bailiff to come around and seize.

His worship ruled that the plaintiff had no right to trespass and dismissed the case.

SEVERAL VOLCANOS ARE IN ERUPTION ON ISLAND OF SANGAHR

Batavia, Java, June 5.—A violent volcanic eruption occurred today on the Dutch island of Sanghar, 40 miles direct south of Minakawa in the Philippines. Several volcanoes were included in the disturbance. Streams of boiling lava poured down the sides of the mountain, overwhelming forests and causing devastation. At the same time a heavy rain of stones and ashes from various craters fell over the whole island. Official reports do not mention loss of life, but register the destruction of 100 houses.

Sanghar is the largest of the group known as the Talaut islands in the Celebes Sea about 500 miles to the east of British North Borneo. Destructive outbreaks of Gunung Abu, the principal volcano on the island, occurred in 1711, 1812, 1856, 1883 and 1892.

IRISH PARLIAMENT TO DECIDE QUESTION OF FEMALE SUFFRAGE

London, June 5.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish nationalists, today declined a request by the Irish and franchises that he receive a deputation to discuss the inclusion of women as electors for the Irish parliament. Mr. Redmond pointed out that previous deputations of this nature had caused only unpleasantness and reiterated his view that Ireland, under home rule, must decide whether she wants women voters.

In consequence of suffragette attacks, churches in many parts of the country are being closed except for the usual Sunday services.

Following is a sample of the notices posted by the rectors:
"Owing to dastardly outrages by frenzied criminals, who have no regard for God or man, this church will be closed except during the hours of divine service."

TRAVELERS HAVING TIME AT BRANDON

Are Accorded Hearty Reception by Prominent Men of Wheat City.

AUTOMOBILE RIDE TODAY

Tomorrow Afternoon Knights of Grip From Whole West Play Ball.

Brandon, Man., June 5.—The grand council, U.C.T., convened here at nine o'clock this morning and, despite the inclement weather, a large number of visiting travelers registered. At ten o'clock a public reception was held in the opera house, at which Mayor Hughes tendered a hearty welcome to the grand council and the visiting delegates. Short addresses of welcome were also given by Hon. G. H. Caldwell, on behalf of the provincial government; T. C. Norris, leader of the opposition in the provincial house; A. Shevan, on behalf of the Brandon board of trade; and W. L. Smale, who presided over the summer fair boards. All the speakers were well received and enthusiasm was the keynote of the reception.

The evening program consists of an auto ride round the city and adjacent points of interest at 7 p.m., exemplification of degree work at 8 p.m., and the day winds up with a smoker in the opera house at 9 p.m. Tomorrow will be the greatest day of the meeting and will comprise, in addition to a big parade of travelers at 1:30, a grand sports at the exhibition grounds. These sports include a baseball tournament in which teams from Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, and other western points will compete. A number of novelties will be introduced including a relay race and a beauty competition for men only. A special train from Winnipeg is expected during the course of the day, which will bring a large number of commercial men and their friends, including a "kittie" band.

UNION MEN WANTED ACTION STARTED AGAINST CHINESE

Union organizations protesting against the landing of Chinese and against the employing of white girls and women in such establishments, must make the matter up with the provincial government, and if relief is to be obtained must obtain the passage of an act empowering the city to take action. Under the present law civic authorities are powerless to interfere.

Commissioner Booth gave this assurance to a delegation of union men calling on him this morning. The workers protested against the landing of more licenses for Chinese establishments on the ground that they injured the business of Canadians and other white men in the cafe business. They contended that the allowing of Chinese girls to take action should be discontinued. They were assured that no action could be taken against women working for Chinese, except girls under the age of 17. The delegation gave no expression as to whether the matter would be taken up with the provincial government.

BAND CONCERTS WILL CONTINUE THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SUMMER

Commissioner Harrison announced this morning that the Strathcona band will give a concert at Riverdale park Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, and that at the same hours concert will be given at East End park by the 1914 band. These concerts will continue on Sundays until further notice.

Drowned Last Season.
Revelstoke, B.C., June 5.—The badly decomposed body of a man attired in summer dress was recovered from the Kamloops river today. Identification is impossible, and it is thought the man was drowned last season.

Track Train To Meet.
An important meeting of the Y.M.C.A. track team will be held at the association building on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All track men are requested to be present.

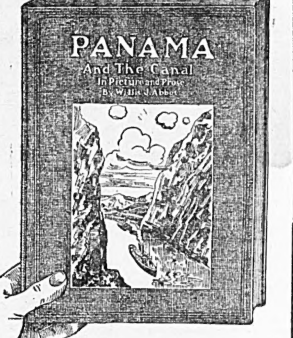

Chinaman is Acquitted.
Charles Mah Don, charged with attempting to extort money from Ma Kung Don by means of a threat, was acquitted by Judge Taylor in the district criminal court yesterday.

Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose

This book first takes you in through the front door of Panama—through the islands along the way, describing the natives in picture and prose; then you are taken to the isthmus and are shown the wonders of that unknown country—the people, their strange costumes, their religions and politics, their peculiar characteristics; how they live—how certain natives eat lizards and hugely enjoy them—how they fish and hunt; their sports and pastimes; marketing bananas, shooting alligators, burning charcoal; ALL there is to know, all about these queer people, and more than has ever been told of the great waterways—from the whys and wherefores of its inception to the ins and outs of its construction—and on through to its completion—in all a beautiful human interest story that will charm the reader to the very last page.

ALDERMAN MAKES GLAD LOST CHILD

Little Fort Saskatchewan Girl Gets Lost in First Street Traffic.

MOTHER MISSES CHILD

Enquiries at Police Station Even Before Daughter Can Arrive.

Alderman G. H. May appeared in his usual role of Good Samaritan in the people at noon today, when he took charge of little Mildred Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nichols of Fort Saskatchewan, who was lost on First street and was seen crying by several people. The girl, who was about to take her lunch home, was crying and was unable to find her way. It appears that the little girl was waiting outside a store for her mother, who came to the city with the child this morning on the C.N.T. train from the Fort, and began to wander around, bewildered by the maze of sights on the second largest business artery in the city.

The Alderman may pushed his way through the small crowd which had by that time gathered round the girl, and it was not long before his diplomatic and compromising skill began to assert itself. The girl gave the name and address of her father, and stated that she had lost her mother, and the Alderman was about to take her to his home for dinner and phone Fort Saskatchewan, when it was suggested that he enquire at the police station if anyone had been looking for the girl during the forenoon.

At the station Mr. May found out that Mrs. Nichols had learned that she had taken charge of the frightened child and that she had called for her daughter, so she was left there by the mother called for her a few minutes after.

RESIGNATION OF TURNER ACCEPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Building Commissioner Will Be Retained as Consulting Architect.

TENDERS ARE ACCEPTED, ADDITIONAL BUILDINGS

Voted $5,000 for Equipment South Side Technical Training School.

At a meeting of the school board last evening the resignation of George E. Turner, building commissioner since September 1, 1910, was accepted, but not before considerable discussion had taken place. Mr. Turner's written resignation suggested that he be retained in an advisory capacity until the end of the year, but this request was voted down by some of the members, although the general feeling of the school board was that Mr. Turner's services had been invaluable and it was generally regretted that he should wish to resign his position, just at this time of the year when building contracts were being let and other work of vital interest being done in which Mr. Turner had taken effect June 30, and the final meeting being held July, August and September as consulting architect at the request of the board. The general voice of the meeting was that Mr. Turner had been a valuable man in the service of the board and that the present high standard of school buildings in the city spoke volumes in his favor.

A request was read from W. L. Richardson, director of technical education, who was going to argue that he would move for a reconsideration of the matter at the next meeting. The matter of the resignation of Mr. Turner was debated for and against and finally Mr. Richardson, who was present, said: "I am not going to argue, let this discussion stop." This brought Mr. May to his feet, with "Who's running this school board, Mr. Chairman, is it the director of technical education?" Although the motion was voted down, Mr. Richardson said that he would move for a reconsideration of the matter at the next meeting.

The next tender out of four received, was accepted for the building of a four-room addition to the North Edmonton school. The successful tender was by J. H. Thomas and Christian, at $34,000. Other tenders were: Dunlop-Johnson Construction company, $11,000; Zentz Construction company, $12,400; Auld and Company, $11,850; Frost and Ingram, $11,400.

The lowest tender out of four received, was accepted for the building of a four-room addition to the North Edmonton school. The successful tender was by J. H. Thomas and Christian, at $34,000. Other tenders were: Dunlop-Johnson Construction company, $11,000; Zentz Construction company, $12,400; Auld and Company, $11,850; Frost and Ingram, $11,400.

The sum of $5,000 was voted for equipment of the old King Edward school on the south side, which will be used for purpose of technical training. Tenders will be asked for the winding and cleaning of all clocks in the city schools during the vacation month and for regulating them during the remainder of the year.

CAPITAL CITY OIL COMPANY OFFERS BLOCK OF SHARES

Concern Headed by Well-Known Local Men to Begin Work Soon.

WILL BE LISTED ON LIVERPOOL EXCHANGE

Experts Examine Carefully and Give Every Assurance of Success.

Official announcement was made this morning that Capital City Oil, Ltd., under the laws of the province of Alberta, with 1,000,000 shares at a par value of $1 a share, will offer a block of its treasury stock, 500,000 shares, which have been set aside for development purposes, to the public at 25 cents a share, beginning tomorrow morning. Local brokers will handle the first issue.

The company is headed by F. W. Pearce as president and sales manager; other officers being: Vice-president, A. E. May; secretary, Neil McLaughlin; treasurer, A. H. Forster; directors, George Hepler, Walter Campbell, W. A. Milne, J. E. Bagley and H. R. Hall. Freeman, Parker and Abbott are solicitors. The head offices of the company are in the Alberta Loan block, first street.

The shareholders, among whom are some of the foremost business men of Edmonton, have agreed to place their own stock in escrow, which means that it cannot be thrown upon the market. This is an added safeguard to buyers of treasury stock.

"Our property," President Pearce said this morning, "is right in the Okotoks district, where the big companies have their claims. Experts have advised us that our land is just as good as any in the district. "We are now arranging for active development work and drilling operations will begin as soon as sufficient stock is sold to cover the initial expenses."

"E. Webb, a member of the Liverpool Stock exchange, who is one of our shareholders, assured me the other day that our stock will be listed on the Liverpool exchange as soon as the development work is under way. "We have a strong company and every shareholder has the utmost confidence in our plan to develop a property that has been approved by the foremost oil authorities in the country. The fact that 500,000 shares of our stock was subscribed in a few days is significant. The holders showed their faith in the proposition by placing their stock in escrow and agreeing not to put it on the market in competition with the treasury stock, which our company is about to issue to the public."

"It may also be of interest to the public to state that our company will begin operations free of any debt. Our property is paid for and we have no other expenses that must be saddled upon the shareholders. "We believe that our chances of finding oil in commercial quantities are as good as any in a proved field. This is confirmed by the reports of experts, who have gone carefully into the proposition. They give us every reasonable assurance of success in our undertaking."

"Putting aside the fact that I am head of the company and vitally interested in its promotion, I want to say that I believe the stock of Capital City Oil, Ltd., will make money for its holders."

DEPUTY MINISTERS ATTEND FARMERS' CELEBRATIONS
At the request of the Bloomingdale local of the United Farmers of Alberta, John Perrie, deputy minister of municipal affairs for the province, and J. D. Hunt, deputy attorney-general, on Wednesday attended the annual picnic of the society. Bloomingdale Heights is one of the strongest unions in the province and some 600 persons assembled for the occasion. Mr. Perrie gave an address explaining the method to be followed in changing from a local improvement district to a rural municipality under the Alberta Rural Municipalities Act. On the same day Geo. Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture; A. W. Foley, head of the poultry branch; J. A. Smith, provincial road inspector; R. B. Hunter, of the Swift Canadian company, and John Blue, provincial librarian, motored to Westlock on the E. D. and B. C. and addressed the farmers there. The poultry branch of the organization of an agricultural society. The farmers of this district have a splendid country and are a progressive body of men. The Westlock district is expected to do big things agriculturally.

CITY EMPLOYMENT OFFICE TO OPEN ON NEXT MONDAY
The city employment office, authorized by the council at its last meeting, will be opened in the basement of the civic block Monday morning, with J. J. McCormick, 1019 114th street, in charge. Commissioner Booth yesterday appointed Mr. McCormick as employment agent. At this office all applications for employment with the city will be made and from here submitted to the various McCormick superintendents of departments must choose their workmen. In this manner the city authorities hope to obtain the employment of Edmonton residents first. After all local workmen seeking employment have been cared for superintendents may add out of town men to their forces if more men are required.

HENLEY REGATTA THIS YEAR PROMISES TO BE THE MOST SUCCESSFUL IN ITS HISTORY

Crews From Winnipeg and Toronto Considered to Have Good Chance to Win—Competition Will Be Keener Than Even Before—Increased Number of Entries.

London, June 5.—Henley regatta, which takes place this year from July 1 to July 4, promise to create great interest as, besides the U. S. Canada, Germany and Switzerland, will be represented in the various events. The annual challenge cup for eight has attracted entries from the Union club of Boston and Harvard university. It is expected that England will have to fight hard to retain it, as Canada also will be represented by the Winnipeg Rowing club in whose eight are three oarsmen of the four who recently captured the Stewards' cup. The Stewards' challenge cup for four will also bring forth a struggle, as the Maine Rowing club from Germany intends to send a four to compete. Last year the Mainz four defeated the Argonauts of Toronto and also Leander. In this event, but lost the final to New College as a foul. The Germans steer very erratically and colliding with their opponents. In the diamond scull, the amateur sculler champion of America, will represent the Ben Rowing club, of Toronto.

Dibble will have a big field to contend against. Including A. McCulloch, Leander, who has won the event once before; E. G. Williams, a Cambridge oarsman; S. E. Swann, last year's president of the Oxford Rowing club; E. D. P. Pinks, the runner up in 1912; London Rowing club; E. L. Watts, Thames Rowing club; N. L. Higgins, Twickenham; C. M. Stewart, Kingston and G. C. Frigg, Manchester. English entries in the other events include the Leander, London, and Thames Rowing clubs, which are regarded as certain starters for the grand challenge cup. The university entries for this event depend to some extent on the results of the summer regatta but it is anticipated that a combined crew will represent Cambridge which Oxford will send the new college eight. Crews from the universities also will defend the Stewards' cup of England. For the ladies challenge plate and the Thames Challenge cup, all the university colleges and many of the public schools will enter crews. The increase in foreign entries is a result of agreements entered into by the committee of the regatta with foreign associations including the American Rowing association. Other countries which also have made agreement include South Wales, Belgium, France, Holland, Hungary, Italy and Russia, but most of the agreements were made too late to allow of their entering crews.

Civic Cricket Club.
The following players are requested to turn out for the Civic on Saturday, June 6th, on the East End park, at 2:30. The following team will meet the North Edmonton team in a league match at the above ground: Hirst, Bacon, Vowels, Hodgson, Mills, Moore, Street, Bruce, Collier, Mitchell, Gibbs; reserves, Solfield, Dawes.

Down in Bangkok, Siam

The Siamers got their wits together, also some very plain wits— and structured what is today the lightest summer hat for men—like a Sun-fake. Went to work and dubbed them "Bangkok" Hats in honor of the land of their origin. At Hudson's Bay this week. $6.95 is the price.

Suits for Young Men.

NONE of your conventional models—but Suits with snap and vim in every line. Created for young men, who demand real novelty as well as good taste in every garment. One, two and three button effects—$18. up.

Western Canada League Games Yesterday Postponed by Rain

THOMAS LIPTON TO HAVE YACHT PANAMA EXHIBIT

London, June 5.—Sir Thomas Lipton has placed an order with Charles Nicholson for a 12 meter racing yacht to compete in the Hazards Pacific expedition regatta. The yachting correspondents of the London morning papers express themselves hoping opinion of Shumrock IV's behaviour yesterday. The Daily Mail remarks that it is a unique satisfaction that the boat designed by Herreshoff might cross the Atlantic with greater ease than Shumrock IV, while Nicholson has turned out a racing boat of an American design in his more advantageous position. The Mail thinks that Shumrock IV will give the defender a fine race if she is able to carry her huge canvas in a wind.

ENGLISH POLOISTS HARD AT PRACTICE FOR GAME TUESDAY

Hempstead, N.Y., June 5.—Owing to the continuous downpour of rain yesterday at Meadowbrook, the English polo players did not engage in the practice game which had been arranged for them on the international field. As the first international match takes place next Tuesday, the team will be seriously handicapped for lack of practice if weather conditions do not change. Only one game has been played since the arrival of the team. Should weather conditions permit, the English team will play today at Meadowbrook and the American players at either Meadowbrook or Westbury.

WELL KNOWN HORSES WIN YESTERDAY AT SASKATOON RACES

Saskatoon, June 5.—Yesterday's results: First race—2:22 pace 2:17 trot; Hal Chief won; Danico second; Midnight Oro 3. Time 2:17.
Second race—six furlongs—Athabasca won; Ethel Sampson second; Ester L third. Time 1:17.
Third race—five furlongs—Dr. Neuter won; Chilton—Tance 2; Tim Brooke 3. Time 1:03.
Fourth—2:12 pace, 2:07 trot—Dan Logan won; Merry Direct 2; Imbro 3. Time 2:14.
Sixth—mile dash—Miss Viven won; Turret 2nd; Lady McAlamy 3. Time 1:40 3-4.

PITCHER BLANDING TO APPEAR BEFORE JUDGE RE CONTRACT

Chicago, June 5.—The Kansas City Federal league baseball club yesterday served notice on Pitcher Blanding, of the Cleveland Americans, to appear before Judge Foel in the superior court here next Monday, when it intends to move that a temporary injunction be granted restraining him from playing with Cleveland or any club other than the Kansas City Federals. Blanding pitched for the Cleveland Americans here yesterday.

Radials vs. S.O.S.

The following players will represent the Radials and are requested to be at Diamond Park tonight at 6:45 sharp: Smith, Adams, Whitehead, Baker, Lamb, Sault, Hornsby, McCafferty, Bonner, Hutton, Wilkie, Pawcett, Herman, Baxter.

St. Louis Losses 7-6.

St. Louis, June 5.—(Federal)—By bunting hits with errors in the last two innings Indianapolis scored four runs and these added to three scored in the third innings gave the visitors enough runs to nose out the home club again yesterday, 7 to 6.

RESOLUTE WINS RACE WHEN TWO FALL OVERBOARD

Two Members of Vanitie Crew Take to the Water and Are Rescued.

Rye, N.Y., June 5.—The third race of the initial series for the American cup defense candidate yachts, was won off here yesterday by the flag offeree, Resolute, after the Vanitie withdrew while in the lead in order to assist in the rescue of two of her men who had been washed overboard during the first leg of the race. With Vanitie out of the race the Resolute was assured of a hollow victory and the contestants originally planned to be an 18 mile race was shortened half that distance and the Herreshoff craft crossed the finish line 58 minutes and 41 seconds after the start. By winning yesterday's race the Resolute went into the lead having won two out of three matches. The yachts will renew the contest Saturday when the Larchmont yacht club will act as host. The men washed overboard were Alek Johnson, and Oscar Olson. They were finally picked up, one by a tug and the other by the other members of the Vanitie's crew.

Vanitie Sailors Overboard

Associated Press, Rye, N.Y., June 5.—(By wire)—Alexander Cochran's cup defense candidate, the Resolute, was forced to retire from yesterday's trial race with the Vanitie because two of her crew, both seamen, fell overboard, and by the time they were rescued the Vanitie was hopelessly behind. With her rival out of the race, Resolute finished alone and won the contest after the regatta committee had signalled that she need sail only half the 18-mile course.

Later it was learned the Vanitie had picked up one of the men and press boat picked up the other.

BENNIE ALLEN DEFEATS PRATT HIGH RUN OF 71

Kansas City, June 5.—Bennie Allen defeated Roy Pratt of San Francisco, 260 to 48, in the second block of their match for the world's championship at Pocket billiards here last night and set a new high run record of 71. The previous record was 59, made by Alfred De Oro former champion, Allen also claims a new lining record as the result of last night's play, in which he pocketed 100 balls in 25 innings.

Kansas City Beat Chicago.

Kansas City, June 5.—(Federal)—Chicago's errors and Chadburn's home run yesterday gave the locals a victory over the visitors. Stone, for Kansas City, kept the 12 Chicago hits well scattered. Sherman, a recruit, started for Chicago, but did not last long.

His Old Stunt.

Baltimore, June 5.—The wrestling match here last night between Zuyeco and American Gus Schoenler, of this city, was declared a draw. After the men had contested for 69 minutes and 40 seconds, American fell off the stage and injured his back and ankle.

Walt Anderson Will Wrestle.

Walt Anderson, heavyweight champion wrestler of Alberta, has been matched to meet Ernest Penny 205 lbs. of Edmonton in Gleichen on June 11. Also to meet Bert Simmons of Regina, Alta., for a return match in Gleichen on June 12.

INDIAN GUYON TAKES THORPE'S PLACE AS AN ALL-ROUND STAR

Twenty-Year-Old Marvel May Be Entered in the 1916 Olympic Championship.

Carlisle, Pa., June 5.—American need have no fear that the world's all-round athletic champion, Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian, won at the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912, will go to the other end of the world now that Thorpe has become a professional ball player.

At Carlisle Indian school a successor to Thorpe is already in the making, and if the records this new champion has been making this spring count for anything, there is little doubt that another Indian will win for America and also set a new record.

The Indian who will fill Thorpe's shoes is Joe Guyon, the 20-year-old red-skin who made such a phenomenal showing last fall on the gridiron that every critic in the country chose him as the most terrific backfield player of the year. Guyon, though only a freshman, made a marvelous record in the recent class athletic games at the Indian school.

This football star won seven events and captured places in two others for a total of 25 points, and his records were exceptionally fine, considering the many events in which he competed. Guyon captured the 100-yard dash in 16 4/5 seconds, and a few minutes afterward, the 220-yard event in 23 4/5 seconds. He jumped from this race into the 320-yard hurdle without any rest and romped away with the high stick event in 17 seconds, a time he could have improved had he been pushed.

He proved equally strong in the field events. He took the broad jump with a leap of 29 feet 2 inches, and leaped 5 feet 2 inches in the running high jump. He entered the hammer event, the first time he had ever handled the missile, and threw it 82 feet in one toss. Coach Warner believes he could add 50 feet to the distance. Then Guyon strolled over to the shot putting circle and won that event by tossing the 16-pound leader ball 39 feet 2 inches. He topped off his performances, heavy though he is, by entering the pole vault and winning that event with 9 feet 3 inches.

As Guyon has never tried his hand at any kind of track athletics until this year and has two more years under Glen Warner before the Olympics, there is little reason to doubt that he will leave the great Jim Thorpe's records in the year, especially as he will acquire the additional skill necessary to make him a more formidable man than Thorpe in the field events.

Guyon is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs only 145 pounds, though he feels like 200 to his opponents, and comes from the Chippewa tribe in Minnesota. The tribe that produced Chief Bender, the great Athletic pitcher, and the town that brought out Joe Bush, another famous Athletic twirler. In addition to his prowess on track and gridiron, Guyon is also a crack ball player and fine basketball man.

Tossed a Coin for a Yacht

Detroit, June 5.—John F. Dodge and Horace E. Dodge, two of the men made multi-millionaires by the Ford Motor company, were joint owners of the $30,000 yacht Hornet until they were crossing Lake Erie on her. Horace Dodge recently built a new yacht costing nearly a quarter of a million, so did not care much for his interest in the Hornet, but he did not propose to relinquish her without some recompense. The brothers argued for some time on what would be a just amount for John to pay for his brother's interest, without reaching an agreement.

Presently Horace said: "Let's toss a coin, the winner to take the boat." "You're on," agreed John and flipped a coin. Horace chose heads, but the coin landed face down and John now owns the Hornet.

The durability of the reinforced concrete pole was forcibly demonstrated during the past winter in the experience of a well-known railroad which has been making an experimental test of these poles. During continuance of the severe storms the poles of this company were severely taxed, and in many cases the overloaded wires bore the supports to the ground, but in no case did a concrete pole fall.

FRANK MORAN WILL SURELY NEED SYMPATHY

Is Bound to Lose in Go With Johnson, No Matter the Outcome.

Frank Moran of Pittsburgh is one of those fellows that just naturally ought to be sympathized with.

Frank is billed to swap punches next month with J. Johnson, an enemy person in Paris, and as we view it, Frank is bound to lose, no matter what the outcome.

In our humble opinion, Frank is due for a beautiful and artistic beating. If he should happen to soak the colored rent in a reasonable spot and send him to dreamland, there at once will arise the shout of "fixed fight."

Already there are reports that the fight is "framed"—that Johnson is to lay down and hand over the title to Moran, upon certain conditions. One of these conditions is said to be that Moran is to give Johnson a return fight within six months, the return fight to be on the level.

It is figured by those behind the affair that if Johnson wins in the scrap next month the movie picture rights wouldn't be worth cigarette money, but if Moran won the picture would bring at least $25,000 from the white folks who yearn to see a triumph over the black.

Further than this, it is argued that if Johnson beats Moran he'll have a mighty hard job getting another match with any "white hope" because there'll be a bit too frightened of his terrible punch. But if Johnson loses and gets a return match, he'll get a ruckus from two big fights.

Some of those who profess to be in the fishy sounding frame-up, claim that the laydown agreement all will be in writing, and that there may be included even a proviso that Johnson is to get a share of the money Moran makes in vaudeville while exhibiting himself as the champion.

This frame-up talk sounds logical to some. It doesn't to us. "All right," Johnson, as we view things, hates the "white trash" just a little too much now, to let his head of champion go to any member of it without putting up the battle of his life. Since he grabbed the "white trash" and abused, ridiculed and verbally ripped more than any other fighter in the history of the ring.

There's no denying the fact that he has deserved the major portion of it. But whether the abuse has been justified or not has not altered the fact that Johnson has grown to hate the white race because of it. That hatred has been increasing in the past few months, and it is said that Johnson has been yearning for a chance to demonstrate that although he lacks a bit in manhood, he doesn't lack as a pugilistic champion. And he's yearned to get an American "white hope" as the subject for his demonstration.

And he's got Moran as his subject. As we view it, Moran must not only act as the exhaust valve for the negro's present hatred for the white race generally, but also will have to answer to Johnson for the slandering, jeering remarks he's made about the negro since match has been made. After listening to Moran, one gets the idea that Johnson has gone back so far that he's a physical wreck.

That from the other side come occasional reports about "The Smoke" that contradict Moran. Johnson is said to be overweight and flabby and he's slowed down somewhat from disipation, but he's still a fighting machine, and one that needs only a little will to be restored to almost perfect condition.

The latest reports are that Johnson is trading faithfully and hard and if these are true, well—we glad we're not in Francis Moran's place.

CY YOUNG MADE 'EM TAKE NOTICE

The first no-hit, no-man-to-first-base game in the history of modern baseball was just off. On May 8, 1904, with old Cy Young as the twirling hero of this remarkable contest, Denton was officiating on the rubber for the Boston Red Sox and was pitted against the Philadelphia Athletics. Throughout the nine innings not an Athlete got a hit or by other means set his tribles on the initial bag. Since then his feat has been repeated only three times in league ball, and only once in a major circuit. In 1891 Tom Cowan, pitching for Shreveport in the Southern league, prevented any Montgomery player from reaching base in a game with the Charles Evans, of the Hartford club of the Connecticut league, pulled off a similar stunt in a game with the Bridgeport. Later that year Addie Joss broke into the hall of fame by pitching a no-hit game away back in 1887, for the Cleveland Nationals, and in 1903 pulled off a similar stunt for Boston, but in both of these contests players of the opposite teams reached first.

It was a game between the Cubs and Detroit that the 28. Louis Ridd, played at Leon, Mich., in '76, that Jimmy Galvin, of the Reds, twirled the first no-hit game in which no player reached first, which was also the first no-hit game in the history of baseball. Richmond, the great Worcester pitcher, was the first in the

Every Picture

TELLS A STORY, and truth is stranger than fiction; but no picture can tell of the wonderful bargains in men's wear now on sale at Shugarmans'. Forced to raise $12,000 in the next 18 business days in order to retain his credit with wholesale houses in Eastern Canada, America and England, a splendid stock of new clothing, shoes and furnishings is placed on sale at prices which command instant attention.

Our Prices

Cold, lifeless figures can convey no conception of the prices we have placed on the entire stock. Profit is "squeezed out," duty and freight is forgotten, and, being undercut. Come and judge for yourself. WE WILL STAND OR FALL BY YOUR VERDICT.
